Change the way you share, manage and keep secure information. The modern world is filled with an impressive amount of personal and sensitive information. Social networks, online banking, shopping and shopping malls are just a few examples of online communities and platforms that accumulate our data and provide us with useful information. With that in mind, nobody can be trusted nowadays. You may encounter data theft and even loss. Even if the same device is used on multiple accounts, you can't be sure that all your data was properly protected, not to mention that device's total security could be compromised. Defencebyte privacy shield provides privacy controls that let you manage your data in a secure way. They can be protected from prying eyes by every means and they can't be opened or tampered with. The main feature is the exclusive import and export feature. You can export data from the device and share it safely with anyone else using the provided link. PrivacyShield uses exclusive codes that allow you to share information with your clients and colleagues in a safe way. You can decide to send a QR code or a link to the information you want to share, and it will be read by the recipient. Once they've read the codes, it makes them instantly start an online browser that will send you the information, encrypted. It's as simple as that. You don't even have to share the codes with anyone. Now you can share information as a link, without the need of external applications. You can share up to 5 private URLs at a time and with the same privacy control that you have on your own data. You can even control all your personal data and have access to it in case you need it, by using secure codes. You don't even have to be connected to the internet or to your device to use these codes. These are just a few examples of what the application can do for you. Besides the privacy features it has many more, allowing you to use the app for marketing purposes. You can even measure your audience and make sure all your clients are being tracked. Defencebyte Privacy Shield has all of the core privacy controls you'd expect in a privacy application, along with a variety of security and privacy settings for enhanced security and control of your data. You can control the amount of your data that's stored in the app, and remove it at any time. First of all, you need to make sure that you have the most recent version of the app. The version number can
