Wearing Artificial Jewellery That Not Match Your Outfit

One of the most common mistakes that women make is wearing jewellery that does not match their outfits. For example, a woman wearing heavy Indian Fashion Jewellery with jeans can be overlooked. In this situation, if you don't know what jewellery you have to wear you can opt for Silver Jewellery or Sterling Silver 925 Jewellery as it goes well with every outfit.

Not Selecting The Indian Fashion Jewellery According To The Neckline

While selecting a jewellery piece one should always match it with the dress neckline. You cannot wear long jewellery with any neckline, for it, the neckline of the dress should match your selected jewellery. For example, wearing a heavy Meenakari Imitation Jewellery necklace with a deep neckline may not provide you with an appropriate look.

Different Jewellery Stones Together

The time has gone when the mismatching of jewellery was not in trend. Now there are a lot of options available in Women's Fashion Jewellery on which you can experiment with your look as long as it is balanced. While picking up the jewellery, always take care of quality.

Wearing Dirty Jewellery

If you wear some piece of jewellery daily, then it is important to clean them. Some of the jewellery pieces like Artificial Jewellery get easily dirty because of their regular use. As sometimes jewellery inclines to become a spreading ground of germs it is good to clean it. Also, avoid wearing jewellery in water and using sanitiser while wearing jewellery as it affects its shine.

How To Take Care Of Your Indian Fashion Jewellery?

Whether it's real or Imitation Jewellery, there is always an emotional reason behind purchasing your jewellery and you want it to look forever good. Here we have mentioned some tips to take care of your beautiful jewellery and prevent it from damaging.

Keep It In A Safe Place

Always keep your jewellery piece in a safe place to prevent it from damaging. And avoid wearing it in sunlight as some jewellery pieces like gemstones look dull when exposed to sunlight.

Keep Different Types Of Jewellery Separately

Always place different types of jewellery like gold, silver or precious stone separately as they may damage each other. As gemstones are hard and the gold jewellery scrapes easily try to avoid placing them together.

Keep It Clean

After using the jewellery, always clean it with an anti-tarnish cloth before storing as it helps to remove the moisture and oil.

Keep Your Jewellery Away From Skincare

Always wear your jewellery after applying lotion, cream and perfume as it affects the shine of the jewellery.
